C-PEN™

READER 2™

Many students entering college will be arriving with significant gaps in their reading and ability to use language effectively.

Providing the support needed to learn independently is an essential part of ensuring that courses can be understood, and that knowledge can be applied. Students using the pen describe a boost in confidence and an alleviation of the anxiety linked to being unable to read the provided texts.

Better, clearer reader & new interface

Updated set of dictionaries

More accurate text recognition

Support Reading at Every Level

Change the Low Literacy Narrative

The C-Pen Reader 2™ is an assistive reading tool designed for the way you live. From learning to working and reading for pleasure, our text recognition software is supported by multiple dictionaries with easy-to-navigate meanings that enable efficient working.

“

“A mature part-time site carpentry student was experiencing great difficulties with his theory work. His tutor and I introduced him to using a ReaderPen™ to aid his comprehension of text. What followed was a remarkable increase in his self-confidence, attitude to work and increased independence. He previously had failures on end tests, but since using the ReaderPen™, he has now passed all of his end tests.”

- Lesley Urquhart, Assistive Technologist, Shrewsbury College

“The ReaderPen™ has increased my confidence, especially in mathematics as sometimes I would leave questions due to struggling to decode words accurately. Now I simply scan the word, assimilate the meaning, and answer the question confidently. The pen is something I can use when I leave college, and this should help me in the workplace and in daily life with identifying those troublesome words.”

- Student, New College Swindon

“It promotes independence and the progression for students who received in class support at L1 which is not available on Level 2 courses. This is a resource which can be readily used in for study, in the workplace, on placement and when they become employed.”

- Bradford College

“I liked being able to do the work in class without asking the LSA to help me. I like that I can use it in all my lessons and use it for my work at home. It makes me feel more independent.” - Student, Leeds City College
